DMC Collection Guidelines

Akal University | Student information guide | Prepared 31 October 2026

1. Purpose and scope

A Detailed Marks Certificate (DMC), sometimes called a marksheet, records a student's examination results for a semester/year or programme. This guide explains how to prepare to collect one from Akal University. The university's public pages reviewed for this guide do not publish a standing DMC collection calendar, counter hours, location within campus, or a standard checklist. Confirm those details directly before travelling.

2. Before visiting

1. Check the official Akal University website and announcements for the relevant examination result, date sheet, or DMC distribution notice.

2. Confirm that your result is declared and the physical or digital DMC is ready. A result displayed online does not necessarily mean the printed DMC is ready for collection.

3. Contact the Controller of Examinations / Examination Branch. State your programme, semester/year, examination session, roll number and AUID/enrolment number. Ask:

- Is my DMC ready, and for which semester/year?
- What is the collection date and counter/office location?
- What are the counter hours and campus entry arrangements?
- Must I book a visit or bring an application, fee receipt, or no-dues clearance?
- Can a representative collect it, and what authorization is required?

4. If travelling from outside Talwandi Sabo, wait for confirmation before making the trip. University holidays, examination activity, and notice changes can affect counter availability.

3. Where to go and contact details

The university address published on its site is Raman Road, Talwandi Sabo, Bathinda, Punjab, India – 151302. The exact DMC counter location and office timings are not stated in the public guidance reviewed. Ask for directions to the current Examination Branch counter when you call.

Controller of Examinations: Prof. Sukhjeet Singh, coe@auts.ac.in, +91 81948 01454.

General queries: info@auts.ac.in, +91 81948 01454 / +91 82839 22577.

University helpline: 1800-2020-100 (published as a 24-hour helpline; confirm whether it handles examination-document enquiries).

4. Documents and information to prepare

The University has not published a standard DMC collection checklist in the sources reviewed. To avoid a second visit, prepare these items and ask the Examination Branch which are mandatory:

- Original Akal University student identity card, if available.
- Government-issued photo ID.
- AUID/enrolment number, roll number, programme, department, semester/year and examination session.
- Result notification or message showing the DMC is ready, if available.
- Previous DMC or student portal/result printout, if the office needs it to identify the record.
- If someone else will collect it: signed authorization from the student, a copy of the student's ID, and the representative's original photo ID. Confirm the University's precise authorization rules first.
- If the name or other record details changed: supporting legal evidence and copies, but only if the Branch asks for them.

Do not hand over original identity or academic documents unless the University specifically asks to inspect them. Keep copies of anything submitted.

5. At the counter

Give the staff your identification and student details. Before leaving, carefully check the DMC against your records:

- Name spelling and any initials.
- AUID/enrolment number and roll number.
- Programme, department, semester/year and examination session.
- Course/paper titles or codes, marks/grades, credits, result status and total/CGPA where shown.
- University seal, authorized signature, certificate number or security features, if applicable.

If anything is incorrect or missing, point it out immediately and ask how to file a correction request. Make a written request if directed, attach a copy of the DMC and relevant evidence, and retain a dated acknowledgement or reference number. Do not write on or alter the issued certificate.

6. If you cannot collect in person

Ask whether the Branch permits collection by an authorized representative or dispatch by post/courier. Confirm the accepted authorization wording, ID copies, delivery charge (if any), address format and expected dispatch time. Use the payment link only if the University confirms a charge; do not assume that the online payment page itself proves a fee is due.

7. Fees and processing time

No routine DMC collection fee or processing timeline was found in the public material reviewed. Fees can differ for a degree marks card, duplicate DMC, verification, or other service. Confirm the exact fee and official payment method with the Examination Branch before paying. Akal University has an online fee-payment page with a “Degree Marks Card Fee” category, but it does not, by itself, establish the amount payable for ordinary DMC collection.

8. Official references

- University announcements: https://auts.ac.in/announcements/

- Online fee payment categories: https://auts.ac.in/facilities/fee-payment/

- University contact and examination contacts: https://auts.ac.in/ugc-mandatory-disclosures/

This is a student preparation guide based on information publicly available on 31 October 2026. A current university notice or direct instruction from the Examination Branch takes precedence.