Transcript Application Guidelines

Akal University | Student information guide | Prepared 31 October 2026

1. Use the right service

A transcript is an official academic record prepared for purposes such as admission, employment, professional registration or credential evaluation. Akal University's published e-Sanad instructions describe a University transcript/document verification process followed by e-Sanad online attestation or apostille. The route may vary if you need a sealed paper transcript, several copies, direct institutional delivery or a transcript for a purpose other than overseas attestation; ask the ACOE before applying.

2. Akal University instructions that are published

The e-Sanad page instructs applicants to download and complete the Akal University Transcript form, attach self-attested DMCs and degree certificate(s), and follow the e-Sanad process. The University states a fee of Rs. 500 for each certificate for its verification/processing. The page says payment may be made online to the University's bank account or by scanning its QR code and that a scanned fee receipt should be saved as a PDF.

Fees and payment details can change. Confirm the current form, fee, account/QR information and the exact meaning of “per certificate” on the University's e-Sanad page or with the ACOE before payment. Do not send money to account details copied from an old screenshot or unofficial source.

3. Prepare your application

1. Open https://auts.ac.in/facilities/e-sanad/ and download the linked Akal University Transcript form.

2. Complete every field clearly. Use your name and programme as recorded in University records; provide AUID/enrolment number, roll number, department/programme, study period, contact details and delivery or verification purpose as applicable to the form.

3. Attach the self-attested DMCs and degree certificate(s) requested by the University. If you do not have the degree certificate, ask the ACOE what alternative proof is accepted.

4. Pay the currently confirmed University fee through the official method stated on the page. Save the receipt/transaction reference as a readable PDF.

5. Keep a complete copy of the signed form, attachments and payment evidence.

4. e-Sanad registration and submission

The University page describes these steps:

1. Go to https://esanad.nic.in and select Online Services → Online Attestation → New User (Sign Up). Complete registration with accurate details. e-Sanad sends login credentials to the registered mobile number/email; change the password at first login if prompted.

2. Scan each original document/transcript separately, front side only, in colour at 200 DPI. Save each as a clear A4 portrait PDF, maximum 2 MB per document. Make sure each scan is legible and printable.

3. Log in and choose Manage Document → Online Attestation → Apply for Non Pre-verified Document.

4. Complete the e-Sanad application carefully. Upload the scanned document and the Akal University fee receipt as supporting evidence, as instructed.

5. Pay the separate Ministry of External Affairs (MEA) charge displayed by e-Sanad. The University's published page lists Rs. 40 per document for attestation and Rs. 90 per document for apostille; check the current portal amount before paying.

6. Save the acknowledgement and unique Application Registration Number (ARN). Use the ARN in e-Sanad status enquiry to track the application.

5. Check before submitting

- The form is complete, signed where requested, and matches University records.

- Each scan is the correct document, clear, upright, front side only as specified, A4 portrait, colour, 200 DPI and no larger than 2 MB.

- The payment receipt is readable and the amount corresponds to the University's current fee instructions.

- The documents and receipt are uploaded in the correct e-Sanad fields.

- You have saved the University submission copy, e-Sanad acknowledgement and ARN.

6. Fees, timelines and delivery

The published University's Rs. 500 fee is for verification/processing of each certificate in this workflow; MEA charges are separate. Processing timelines, hard-copy dispatch arrangements and completion estimates were not stated in the instructions reviewed. If you have a deadline, contact the ACOE before applying and ask how the University's processing and e-Sanad/MEA processing affect the overall timeline. Confirm whether you need to arrange sealed envelopes or direct delivery to a receiving institution separately.
