Provisional Certificate Guidelines

Akal University | Student information guide | Prepared 31 October 2026

1. Purpose

A provisional certificate is commonly requested as temporary evidence that a student has completed a programme while the formal degree certificate is pending. The receiving employer, university or authority decides whether it accepts a provisional certificate and what wording or issue date it needs. Confirm that requirement first.

2. Akal University procedure

The public Akal University pages reviewed do not state a separate provisional certificate application form, eligibility rule, fee or processing time. Contact the Controller of Examinations to confirm whether this document is issued for your programme and whether your final result/award has been approved. This guide is preparatory and is not a University form or an assurance that a provisional document is available in every case.

3. Questions to ask the Examination Branch

- Has my final result been declared and is my award formally approved?
- Can I apply for a provisional certificate, or should I use a result notification, completion letter or degree certificate route?
- What form, fee and documents are required?
- Do I need no-dues clearance, and from which offices?
- Is the application submitted online, by email, by post or at a counter?
- How long does processing normally take, and can urgent processing be requested?
- Is the certificate issued digitally, on paper, in a sealed envelope or sent directly to a third party?
- What is the procedure if a name, programme or completion date is incorrect?

## 4. Information to prepare

Have your name as shown in University records, AUID/enrolment number, roll number, programme and department, final semester/year and examination session, completion year, phone/email, postal address and reason for requesting the certificate ready. Keep your student ID, government photo ID and final DMC/result accessible. Submit copies only if requested; ask before sending original certificates.

If an employer or receiving institution requires specific details, such as completion date, medium of instruction, mode of study, marks or direct dispatch, provide the written requirement so the University can advise whether the provisional certificate or another document is appropriate.

## 5. Application steps once confirmed

1. Obtain the current form and checklist from the Examination Branch.

2. Complete the form consistently with your academic record and sign/date it.

3. Attach only confirmed required documents and any clearance evidence requested.

4. Pay only the fee and through the official payment method confirmed by the University. Save the receipt.

5. Submit through the specified channel and obtain an acknowledgement/reference number.

6. Ask for the expected completion date and collection/delivery method. Keep follow-up correspondence.

7. On receipt, check your name, programme, completion/award date and certificate details. Report errors in writing promptly.

## 6. Fees and timelines

No public standard provisional certificate fee or service timeline was found in the sources reviewed. Akal University's fee payment page has categories for degree and other fees, but the category list does not establish a provisional-certificate charge. Confirm the current amount and processing estimate with the Examination Branch before payment or making deadline commitments to a third party.
